Madison Animal Rescue Foundation

Host a supply drive, see the back of the flyer for details!

The Madison Animal Rescue Foundation (MARF) is a non-profit 501C3 foundation that saves animals from Madison Animal Control, City of Madison, Alabama. MARF was founded and is run by volunteers. Although you have to be 16 in order to volunteer directly with the animals, MARF is constantly in need of supplies.

Food Bank of North Alabama

Host a Food and Fun Drive, <https://www.foodbanknorthal.org/get-involved/host-a-food-and-fund-drive/>

The Food Bank of North Alabama, based in Huntsville, Alabama, works to end hunger by offering hunger relief programs that immediately feed people in need. It also addresses hunger's root causes through local food initiatives that foster entrepreneurship and healthy food access.

Madison Animal Rescue Foundation

The Madison Animal Rescue Foundation (MARF) is a non-profit 501C3 foundation that saves animals from Madison Animal Control, City of Madison, Alabama. MARF was founded and is run by volunteers. MARF does not have a physical location and instead relies on families to foster the animals in their rescue.

How to Throw a MARF Supply Drive

1. Decide on a time frame for collecting donations. You may decide to collect them over weeks or months, or collect them all at once during a party or event.
2. Decorate collection boxes to be displayed at your school, church, local business or place of worship.
3. Create flyers on a computer or decorate posters announcing the collection. You should include the items you hope to collect. Get a list of items here, www.madisonarf.org/about-us/wish-list. Post the flyers / posters around your neighborhood or town at appropriate locations.
4. Wait for items to start rolling in. (You may want to collect the items from the collection boxes from time and time and move them to your house or another location during the course of the drive.)
5. When your drive is over, contact MARF by phone at (256) 509-4621 or by email at info@madisonarf.org to arrange to drop off your items.
